Mr. Aaron Head
Community Engagement Manager
Planning Department, City of Noblesville

Dear Aaron;

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Noblesville Preservation Alliance (NPA), I'd like to express our gratitude for the Noblesville Community Grants awarded to our organization in 2021, 2022 and 2023. It is a great honor to have our work validated and supported by the fine and beautiful city we serve! NPA is proud of its long history of advocacy and achievement that has contributed to the historic preservation of the architecture and style that help make our city so unique and desirable. We have been proud to self-fund most of our work since 1987. However, we could not have acquired and renovated the building at 1274 Logan Street without significant help from the city we cherish.

As our city will continue to need our efforts as it evolves into its exciting future, establishing an official agency headquarters and programming venue was essential to ensure the long-term viability of NPA. This empowering acquisition also saved and beautifully restored an endangered historic structure which greatly enhanced the beauty of one of Noblesville's most important historic districts! We made the $130K purchase with NPA fundraising proceeds and a $75K interest free Endangered Structures loan from Indiana Landmarks. We are very proud to have completed the $75K restoration and repaid all but $37K of the $75K loan! Our efforts were validated when we received the Noblesville Chamber of Commerce's first annual Advancing Noblesville Award for best Renovation/Restoration – an honor which would have been impossible without generous support from the City of Noblesville!

While NPA has always provided quality programs and services to Noblesville residents, its ability to do so has been greatly enhanced by this venue. Preservation Hall has hosted a Diversity Coalition Community Conversation, three neighborhood Flea Markets, several Roots Music concerts, an Old-Time Radio show, several Noble Stories oral history presentations, and the Logan Street Porch Music Festival. We have made our facility available as an affordable rental for community meetings, piano recitals, and family celebrations. July 29th we will host a Hamilton County Bicentennial demonstration/lecture featuring the Gibson Guitar Companies collection of antique and vintage instruments, and September 10th a Noblesville Bicentennial play written by Noblesville resident, John Wise in 1898, and starring Noblesville mayors past and present as well as several other community leaders. We also enthusiastically participate in other organization's events, including the Darlington Bed Race, where we just won the People's Choice Award for the 5th year with a Bicentennial 1823 covered wagon theme.

In 2024, we will continue to provide, and expand, entertainment, celebrations, educational programs and lectures, and host community events. The Old-Time Radio show was such a success that at least two more are planned by NPA Old Time Radio Theatre. Our theme concert of Murder Ballads performed by 9 local musicians will be repeated with other themes, such as coal mining ballads. And, of course, we will continue our signature events – the Historic Home Tour, Holiday Home Tour and oral histories. Additionally, Preservation Hall's interior has just been painted (courtesy of Serve Noblesville) in neutral shades to make it more attractive as a wedding venue. While the previous colors were appropriate for most events, they imposed limits on wedding décor. As a former church with a lower-level kitchen and dining area, the Hall will be an appealing venue for small budget weddings, and will boost the current income we receive from event rentals.

We are very pleased to continue serving as guardians of our heritage and precious architectural treasures and to serve our community with quality programming. It is a great honor to be supported by an administration that values our contributions and shares our goals.

We respectfully request Community Grant funding for 2024 in the amount of $15K. We know that we are valued by this administration and are very aware of the multiple needs and projects you are required to fund, but sincerely hope you will find value in continuing to partner with the Noblesville Preservation Alliance as we work together to dazzle and delight those who call Noblesville home, and those who are privileged to visit.

With Gratitude,
